Citizens Committee Holds Transfer, to City Illegal Seeks To Correct 'Complication'

Status of Belle Aire School Placed under Cloud

Is This New City School in Rural School District?

Is the Washington C. H. Board of Education building the new Belle Aire elementary school in the Miami Trace Rural School District?

A majority of the members of the Fayette County Citizens Committee believe that, because of what would seem to be a defect in annexation procedure, the city school district is erecting the $144,000 Belle Aire school outside the city limits and in an area which was never legally transferred to the city school district.

At the committee's final regular meeting before it dissolves by law at midnight Monday, the six rural members voted unanimously to recommend transfer of the G. D. Baker subdivision, in which the new city school is being built, from the Miami Trace District to the Washington C. H. City School District.

But, according to the committee's interpretation of the law, their recommendation cannot be carried out except with approval of the entire Miami Trace citizenry in a formal election. At the same time, they believe, the area cannot legally become a part of the city for governmental purposes without a favorable vote of Union Township electors.

The area could, under the committee recommendation, be transferred to the city district for school purposes only without it being a part of the municipality. But this, the committee contends, could be done only with the approval of Miami Trace electors.

The full text of the Citizens Committee resolution will be found on Page 12.

The Belle Aire school, along with a new Eastside school and additions to Rose Avenue and Cherry Hill schools, were made possible under a $645,000 bond issue approved by city district voters in November of 1956.

ELMER REED, president of the Washington C. H. Board of Education, told the Record-Herald Friday morning that he has not yet seen a copy of the committee's resolution and declined to comment until he has examined its contents and discussed the matter with the board's attorney.

City Superintendent W. A. Smith was attending a meeting of the Ohio Assn. of School Administrators in Columbus and could not be reached by telephone.

Meanwhile work continues on the eight-room Belle Aire school which is now under roof. The contractor has indicated that the building will be ready for occupancy when schools reopen in September.

The Belle Aire school, along with a new Eastside school and additions to Rose Avenue and Cherry Hill schools, were made possible under a $645,000 bond issue approved by city district voters in November of 1956.

NONE of the three members appointed by the Washington C. H.

board attended the closing session Thursday night, although Chairman Carl Janes expressed regret over their absence and delayed opening the meeting for 30 minutes in case two of the city members might have missed the time (8:30 p. m.) on the formal notices mailed to members. One of the city representatives is on a fishing trip.

Efforts to contact the others by telephone were unsuccessful.

Formal notice of the redistricting resolution was prepared for submission to Dr. E. E. Holt, state superintendent of public instruction, as required by law.

THE RESOLUTION, offered by Kenneth Bush and seconded by Charles Burke, reviewed the steps taken for annexation of the Baker subdivision, a still undeveloped tract of 167 acres lying immediately south of the Belle Aire development and containing one vacant residential building and the half-completed Belle Aire school. The resolution summarizes the Citizens Committee belief that the annexation action approved by City Council and the Fayette County Board of Commissioners in May of 1957 was not proper.

The committee resolution states that the Council-Commissioner action would have been legal prior to Sept. 10, 1947, but that after that date an amended statute required that annexation proceedings initiated by Council (as was the case with the Baker subdivision) could not be completed without the approval of all the electors of Union Township at the ballot box.

The issue was never submitted for vote.

Had Union Township electors voted on the annexation proposal and disapproved it, any further annexation proceedings involving the area would have been stayed for at least five years and apparently would have clouded the city's plans.

15 Persons Die As Jet Tanker Falls, Explodes

WESTOVER AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP)—A jet tanker plane attempting a transatlantic speed record crashed and exploded seconds after takeoff early today, killing all 15 aboard.

Observers said the giant KC135 jet tanker hit high tension wires about a mile and a half from its takeoff runway.

The explosion disintegrated the plane into hundreds of pieces, the largest of which was described as no bigger than a chair.

Among the victims were six newsmen who were to cover the flight of four Air Force planes attempting to break records for aircraft speed in crossing the Atlantic in both directions.

Also on board was Brig. Gen. Donald W. Saunders, Athens, N.Y., commander of the operation.

The plane was the third of the four-plane flight to take off. The first two got off on schedule and headed directly for London.

THE FOURTH plane was on the runway ready to take off at the time of the crash. That flight was canceled.

One of the two tankers which made successful takeoffs touched down at Brize Norton Air Base, England, after a record transatlantic flight. Its time for the 3,337-mile jaunt: 5 hours 22 minutes 29.68 seconds.

It was followed by a second Stratotanker which also flashed over London in faster time than any previous mark for the route.

The tankers had planned to take off on a London to New York record attempt after a brief stopover, but this plan was abandoned because of the crash near Lure.

A U.S. Air Force spokesman said the flights were scheduled to demonstrate the Air Force's capability to send high-performance jet tanker aircraft to strategic points anywhere in the world.

The Stratotankers are the military version of the Boeing 707 jet airliners, which is scheduled to go into transatlantic commercial service next year. The commercial type will carry up to 147 passengers or 25 tons of cargo.

Wreckage from today's crash was strewn for three quarters of a mile.

CIVILIANS killed were: Daniel J. Coughlin, 31, Boston, Associated Press newsmen.

Norman Montellier, 37, New York City, United Press International newsmen.

Glenn A. Williams, 41, Bethesda, Md., associate editor of U. S. News and World Report.

Robert A. Ginsburgh, 63, also associate editor of U. S. News and World Report.

James L. McConaughy Jr., chief of the Washington bureau of Time and Life magazine.

Robert Sibley, 57, Belmont, Mass., aviation editor of the Boston Traveler.

William Cochran, representing the National Aeronautics Assn.

William Enyart, also representing the NAA.

The military men killed, in addition to Gen. Saunders, were:

LT. Col. George Broutsas, Brattleboro, Vt., commander of the KC135.

LT. Joseph C. Sweet, Chandler, Ariz.

Capt. James Shipman, Kansas City, Kan.

Capt. John B. Gordon, Raleigh, N. C.

MSgt. Donald H. Gabbard, Los Gatos, Calif.

Fox Testimony 'Ridiculous' Is White House Appraisal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House today accused John Fox of telling more "ridiculous" falsehoods about top presidential aide Sherman Adams.

Fox today quoted Bernard Goldfine as saying that he had bought a house for Adams in Washington and had sent checks to Adams over a long period of years.

Adams promptly denied the story about the house in a letter read in a stormy session of the House investigating subcommittee headed by Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.).

Fox did not specify the period when he said the checks may have gone from Goldfine, a millionaire Boston industrialist, to Adams. But Fox indicated it was before Adams came to Washington with Eisenhower in 1953.

In the midst of the storm blown up by Fox's sensational charges, the subcommittee recessed until Monday.

Among other testimony before the recess, Fox told the congressmen that he got a $500,000 loan from Joseph P. Kennedy, Boston multimillionaire and former U.S. ambassador to Great Britain, after supporting Kennedy's son John in his successful 1952 Senate race.

THE LOAN, which Fox said was repaid, was for his now defunct Boston Post. Fox said he turned against the Republican Senate candidate, Henry Cabot Lodge, now U. S. ambassador to the United Nations, because he became convinced Lodge was soft against Communists.

For the second day, Fox was testifying before a House subcommittee investigating relations of Boston industrialist Goldfine and Adams.

Thursday, Fox asserted that Goldfine had once told him that Adams had interests in Goldfine textile mills, and that Goldfine said he didn't have to worry about federal regulatory agencies as long as Adams held his White House post.

That brought angry denials from Adams and Goldfine.

And the White House said in effect today that President Eisenhower is convinced Fox was not telling the truth.

At a news conference, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty was asked whether Adams' status, so far as Eisenhower is concerned, had changed any as a result of the allegations by Fox. "How can it change when it (Fox's testimony) is a fabric of falsehoods?" Hagerty shot back.

The press secretary referred newsmen to an Adams' statement Thursday night denying categorically a series of allegations by Fox.

Hagerty declined to say whether Adams may seek an opportunity to testify again before the House subcommittee.

BUT HE MADE it clear that Adams will hit out again if Fox makes any new allegations which Adams regards as untrue.

"There certainly is no intention of letting falsehoods stand unanswered," Hagerty said.

In reply to a question, Hagerty said Adams attended today's weekly meeting of Eisenhower's cabinet. Adams usually sits in at such sessions.

Replying to another question, Hagerty said there was no discussion in the cabinet session of the Adams-Fox-Goldfine controversy.

Fox spent some time today telling of his financial troubles with the Boston Post. Along the way, he accused the Securities and Exchange Commission of deliberately committing "corporate murder" on the traditionally Democratic newspaper.

Yet Goldfine, his former friend and now a business enemy, violated SEC laws, Fox said.

One of the questions the House subcommittee is looking into is

Kewanee Oil Co. Leases Filed On 1,578 More Acres in County

The Kewanee Oil Co., Tulsa, Okla., driller of two apparently unsuccessful oil wells in Fayette County and holder of oil and gas leases on more than 400,000 acres in this area, Thursday filed leases on 1,500 more acres in Jasper and Union Townships with the county recorder, Mrs. Eloise Johnson.

The leases, executed by 13 landowners in the two townships, are the first new ones filed by Kewanee

GOP Seeking Extension of Farm Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans pressed today for emergency extension of expiring farm laws after House defeat of a proposed new multibillion-dollar catch-all farm bill.

With big city Democrats lining up with Republicans, the House Thursday refused to consider a Democratic-backed omnibus measure which its critics caustically labeled a bread tax act.

The 214-171 vote which killed the bill came on what usually is a routinely accepted motion to clear a measure for floor consideration.

The complex, many-featured bill included proposals for new three-year price support and control programs for wheat, cotton, rice, feed grains and milk.

The House action was an impressive victory for Secretary of Agriculture Benson, whose opposition was credited with lending weight to the stunning defeat. House farm bloc members seeking new agriculture legislation.

House Republicans, meanwhile, organized an effort to continue for another year administration-backed laws which expire next Tuesday unless Congress votes to continue them. They had Democratic support as well.

Extension of both the school milk program and the program of farm surplus disposal through foreign sales and aid had been provided in the omnibus bill.

She is in critical condition at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital. Six doctors already are working on her case.

Her illness began as bronchial pneumonia, then spread as a general infection. Doctors said antibiotics have not seemed to halt the infection, which is seriously affecting her respiratory tract. She is in an oxygen tent.

whether federal agencies pulled their punches on Goldfine.

Adams has said he initiated White House inquiries at SEC about Goldfine's troubles with the agency over failure to file required financial reports. But he said he used no influence to get favored treatment and none was accorded to Goldfine.

Sentence to Sluggo Of Teacher Is Lauded

CLEVELAND (AP)—The president of the Cleveland Teachers Union, Paul Corey, praised a six-month workhouse sentence handed to Marvin Scott, 19, who admitted slugging a 67-year-old East Technical High School teacher, Clarence Doubler, on June 2.

"It will serve as a warning to other hoodlums who would assault teachers," Corey said.

Slick Sea Lion Snagged

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—A noose and a net today finally proved the undoing of a fugitive sea lion who escaped last week from a London, Ont., zoo.

The sea lion was captured in a boat house in East Sandusky Bay. Apparently drowsy after two hits from a tranquilizer gun Thursday night, the escaped sea lion was caught at the boat house this morning by fishermen.

They kept it cornered until help arrived from the Toledo Zoo. Then, zoo curator of mammals Dan Danford managed to slip a

Hot Battles Still Raging In Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Pitched battles raged into the morning hours in Beirut and Tripoli today. With the sun came a brief spell of Moslem holiday calm, then sporadic shooting broke out in the capital.

Furious fighting between government forces and rebels in the capital shattered the darkness. For a time it appeared the expected all-out rebel offensive had begun, but more likely both sides were testing the other's military defenses.

For the moment, however, there were no major clashes.

In the northern port of Tripoli, where the rebel attempt to overthrow Lebanon's pro-western government began May 10, security forces shelled the rebel fortress in a blazing renewal of Thursday's battle.

Rebel forces in Beirut estimated they had 12 wounded, including a brother of a rebel leader and former premier, Saeb Salam. No casualty estimates were available from Tripoli.

News Briefs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today cut 872 million dollars from the $3,850,622,500 requested by President Eisenhower for foreign aid in the year starting next Tuesday.

This is 59 1/2 million less than Congress has proposed in a separate bill authorizing continuance of the aid program.

The committee exceeded by 115 million the cut recommended by a subcommittee headed by Rep. Otto E. Passman (D-La.).

IT AVERTS a $2.1 billion drop in revenues otherwise due next Monday by continuing the corporate income tax rate at its present 52 per cent level, and canceling scheduled reductions in excises on new motor cars, auto accessories, liquor and cigarettes.

Repeal of the freight excise represents an estimated revenue drop of at least $485 million a year—all of it coming off the freight bills of shippers over the nation's rail, highway, air and water transportation systems.

The largest part, an estimated $450 million, comes from elimination of the 3 per cent tax on the transportation of freight in general and the tax of 4 cents a ton on transportation of oil.

The pipeline section of the law which was repealed is limited to transportation of crude petroleum and liquid products.

An additional $35 million comes from repeal of the 4 1/2 per cent tax

Ohio's Lawmakers Approve Extension of Jobless Pay

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohioans who exhaust their normal 26 weeks of unemployment compensation eligibility before April 4, 1959, are entitled to another 13 weeks of benefits.

About 50,000 Ohioans have used up all their eligibility in the last year.

The temporary extension of jobless benefits cleared the Legislature in special session Thursday night. Gov. C. William O'Neill is expected to sign the measure within a few days.

Following the governor's suggestion, the lawmakers skipped the offer of a federal loan to cover the benefit extension. Instead, the estimated $40 million needed to pay the extra benefits will come from

Half-Billion Freight Tax Bill Gets Approval in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House today passed and sent to President Eisenhower a compromise tax bill repealing half a billion dollars a year in tax surcharges on freight transportation costs.

The bill averts a drop of $2,115,000,000 in federal revenues due July 1 by extending for another year Korean War increases in the corporate income tax rate and other excises on new automobiles, car accessories, liquor and cigarettes.

The House completed congressional action on the tax compromise in spite of renewed grumbling over the fact Congress has not cut other excises, particularly the 10 per cent federal tax on rail, bus and airline tickets.

The Senate quickly approved the compromise and whipped the bill back to the House to complete congressional action today.

Despite elimination of the freight tax, the compromise closely followed administration demands for continuation of existing tax rates in the face of shrinking Treasury revenues and a prospective $10 billion budget deficit next year.

the state's own compensation reserve fund of slightly more than $505 million.

The Senate also virtually completed legislative action on two other measures asked by O'Neill to bolster the Ohio economy against the present business recession.

The Senate passed a House-approved appropriation bill which adds $8 million to the state's poor-relief fund. It was estimated the extra money will allow the state to match local relief spending dollar-for-dollar until next February—at which time the 103rd General Assembly will be in regular session.

THE OTHER anti-recession measure which passed its last legislative hurdle cleared up a legal question on bonds for extension of sewer and water lines beyond municipal limits.

The question had hindered the sale of about $25 million worth of such bonds, O'Neill estimated. He added that water and sewer projects, held up until the bond law for a number of Ohioans.

About all that remained for the lawmakers before adjournment sometime today is Senate action on a proposed billboard ban along new and relocated sections of Ohio's interstate highway system. The House passed the bill Thursday night, 94-37.

House Speaker Roger Cloud (R-Logan) said the governor will expand his call for the special session of the Legislature to help local school districts expand classroom facilities.

Gov. O'Neill will ask for changes in laws providing for 10 million dollars in bond issues to finance classroom improvements.

Cloud said technicalities in the present law cast doubt on validity of the bond issues.

The money was authorized by the last Legislature under the provision for a 150 million dollar bond issue for public buildings and other public works approved by voters.

Democrats Plan For Rally Here

Plans for a Democratic luncheon and rally here July 15 were put in fairly definite form at Thursday night's joint meeting of the Fayette County Democratic Central and Executive Committees in the Probate Courtroom.

The two - party event to kick off the Democratic campaign for the November election will highlight the state here by a "campaign tour" that has been arranged by the State Democratic Committee.

This tour, it was explained at the committee meeting, will go to every county in the state on congressional districts schedule.

The sixth district tour will be on July 14 and 15. The first day it will take in Clermont, Brown, Adams and Scioto counties and on the second it will cover Pike, Highland, Fayette, Pickaway and Ross counties.

The cavalcade is scheduled to arrive in Washington C. H. at 12:30 p. m. July 14 and remain until 2:30 p. m.

THE PARTY'S two committees here arranged for the luncheon in Memorial Hall to be served by the Women's Auxiliary of Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Robert Wise was named chairman of the ticket committee. They will be available from him at Wise's Children's Store or any member of the two committees at $1.50 each.

State, district and local candidates will be given an opportunity to speak following the luncheon. After that, the group there will be given time to ask these questions.

Virtus Kruse, candidate for the state legislature and chairman of the Executive Committee who will preside at the after - luncheon meeting, emphasized that "those who are unable to get to the luncheon will be welcome to come to the meeting later."

THE TWO committees also discussed formation of a county-wide Democratic organization, and laid the groundwork for the appointment of a committee to work out the details.

Robert Terhune was named finance chairman, with authority to select other members of the committee.

The county Democratic Central Committee is made up of an elected representative from each of the 45 voting precincts in the county. The Executive Committee is made up of nine members of the Central Committee. Kruse is chairman of the Executive Committee and Charles Keiler chairman of the Central Committee.

Members of the Executive Committee are Kruse, Keller, Corwin Carr, Don H. C. Bowen, Stanley Hagerty, Heber Deere, Ray Rumsor, Frank Marshall and Harry Baker.

S. North St. Bridge Opened To Limited Use

The S. North St. bridge will be open for pleasure vehicles only late Friday afternoon. City Manager James F. Parkinson said about noon today.

Repairs on the bridge have been completed sufficiently to allow cars to use the bridge he said, but there is still some work to be done, which will not interfere with limited vehicle use.

The bridge over Paint Creek has been closed for a month. Parkinson said the continual rains during June delayed completion of the bridge. A hot mix surface will be put on the bridge later.

Even when the bridge is completed there will have to be a 10-ton limit, he said.

The 64-year-old bridge has been closed so city street crews can tear out decayed and fragmented cement, and remove corroded steel from trusses, girders and the supporting I-beams. Girders and trusses were patched where they were corroded and the worn-out cement was replaced.

Repairs will "hopefully add to a good deal to the bridge's life span," Parkinson said.

Man Picked Up Here For Pickaway County

Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Mickie picked up Charles Frye, 27, Willard St. about midnight Thursday on a warrant issued in Pickaway County charging Frye with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Frye was in the county jail here Friday morning until he could be transferred to Pickaway County.

Victoria Clafin Woodhull was a woman candidate for President of the United States. She was nominated for the presidency by Equal Rights party in 1872 on a plank demanding equal rights for women.

Dancers Watching The Skies; First 50-50 Set for Tonight

Frustrated dance lovers, who still haven't had their first chance to try the dancing at the community park this summer, will make their third weekly attempt at 3:30 p. m. Friday.

.. If it doesn't rain.

Rain has washed out two previously scheduled Friday night 50-50 dances on the basketball court at the park. The dances, a popular weekly feature of the community park recreation program last summer, still haven't got underway this year.

The High School Athletic Assn. is making its third try to sponsor the first weekly event. Clarence McLernott is once again prepared to call the square dances. It all depends on the weather.

Excluding the ill-fated dances and similarly washed-out events, an average of 200 youngsters and adults have been using the park's recreation facilities each day since the new summer recreation season began, Recreation Director Fred Domenico said. Activities have been varied - from softball to horseshoes and from croquet to tennis.

A meeting will be held at 7 p. m. Tuesday in the shelter house of managers and players interested in a girl's softball tournament, Domenico said. Anyone who hopes to join a team may come there to sign up, he said. Two teams have already been formed and

Market Chalks Small Gains in Heavy Trading

NEW YORK (AP) - The stock market moved ahead to moderate gains this afternoon in the heaviest trading of the week.

Industrials and rails advanced irregularly, the gains mainly fractional.

Scattered losses appeared in various sections of the list.

Lower-priced, speculative issues continued in the forefront. A number of stocks were traded heavily due to special corporate developments. An unusual number of big blocks changed hands in early trading.

Rails resumed their progress on expected cancellation of the 3 per cent tax on freight shipments and also on the rise in carloadings for the third straight week.

Selected gains appeared among oils, chemicals, motors, aircrafts, steels and nonferrous metals.

Aluminum Ltd. dropped about a point.

Lorillard was off a major fraction. Crucible Steel was a point ahead.

Avco, Thursday's most active stock, advanced again in heavy turnover.

American Bosch dropped more than a point. Raytheon, gyrating considerably, traded at a net loss of more than a point.

U.S. government bonds eased.

Fall Pickup In Business Is Up to You

Public Spending
And More Jobs To Boost U.S. Economy

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — You could have it better in the next six months than in the last.
It depends on the expected fall pickup and that depends to a large extent on you.
There should be more jobs. There should be more spending money around if only because a host of government workers and military personnel are getting a raise. So are the steel and aluminum workers, and perhaps auto workers, too.
Public spending for defense, highways and civic projects will be increasing, making more work for many industries and creating jobs.
This government spending, plus yours as you prepare for winter, should give the post-Labor Day economy a welcome boost. The upturn would be moderate, though.
The really big upsurge will come when business itself starts building up inventories instead of trimming them and steps up its spending for new plant and equipment instead of shelving such expansion programs — and again that largely depends on consumer attitudes.
It was the failure of an expected fall pickup in 1957 that led businessmen to cut back on spending and start living off inventories — the two things most blamed for the current recession.
You should find living a bit easier in dollar and cents terms. Food prices are expected to fall enough to offset the extra cost of services.
If you want a new home or an appliance or vacation on the installment plan it should be easier to arrange this summer and fall than last.
The tax news isn't as cheerful, with the recession showing signs of petering out and the federal debt starting to soar. And states and communities are eyeing you as they look around for ways to raise still more revenue.
If you're a businessman your chances of increasing net earnings aren't too hot, unless you can find new ways of cutting costs. For many, labor costs are going up automatically.
If you're a white collar man you may find the boss breathing down your neck. Blue collars were the first to be paid off when production wax cut back. But then management began fretting at the mounting cost of paper work, started chipping away at white collar forces — in a growing number of cases began to cut salaries.
And unless an unlikely large-scale fall pickup changes this business thinking, that trend could continue for a while.

Wheat Control Rebel Cannot Bar Surveyors

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. P. Scott Whiteleather of near Minerva has been enjoined by Federal Judge Paul Jones from barring federal crop surveyors from his farm because Whiteleather opposes wheat controls.

"Whether the law is for the good of all or a majority of those affected by it, is a matter of opinion," the judge wrote in his ruling Thursday. "But the citizen opposed to it is not at liberty to take the law into his own hands."

At a hearing Tuesday, Whiteleather testified his 1958 planting of wheat is within the quota allotted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

As president of the Independent Farmers of Ohio, Whiteleather has led opposition to wheat quotas and refused to pay penalties assessed for overplantings in 1954 and 1956. The federal government has seized his automobile to protect a $600 judgment against him in these cases.

When crop surveyors tried to enter his Columbiana County farm April 1 they were turned away by the doctor and a crowd of 200 sympathizers.

There are more than 100 varieties of plants growing in the desert of southwestern Wyoming.

Five Chardon Strikers Held For Shooting

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—Held in jail overnight, five striking employees of the Johnson Plastic Co. in nearby Auburn Twp. await charges today in connection with the firing of 11 rifle shots at automobiles passing the plant. No one was wounded.

David Eardley, assistant Geauga County prosecutor, said Thursday night he was preparing affidavits charging shooting with intent to wound and would ask County Judge William R. MacDonald to set bond at $5,000 each.

James L. Werner, Chardon attorney representing the striking United Mine Workers (UMW) District 50, said it was undecided whether the union would post bond for the five men. Their names were not given, pending filing of formal charges.
Deputy Sheriff Richard Ford said there were three separate shootings in the roadway near the struck plant, which employs 96 workers.
First incident, said Ford, was reported by Kenneth Fife of Newbury who was driving six boys home from Chagrin Falls. Fife said a car followed his after he drove past the plant and two of six shots fired struck his car.

Ford then had Fife drive past the plant again while the deputy watched and three more shots were fired by men standing in the roadway.
Ford and Deputy Al Brockway said they then drove past the plant in Fife's car and were fired at twice.
Four other patrol cars closed in and five men were arrested. Deputies said a .22-caliber rifle was seized as evidence.
Pat Kelly, plant manager, said only 16 men are out on strike in the walkout called two weeks ago in an attempt by the UMW to organize workers in the plant.

Low Bid Submitted
For Clinton Air Job

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—The apparent low bid of $7,178,563 was submitted by D. W. Winkelman of Syracuse, N. Y., Thursday to build a new runway, taxiway and apron paving, and install utilities at the Clinton County Air Force Base near Wilmington, Ohio. The Army Engineers' estimate was $7,415,851.

Ohio River Traffic
Sets Record in '57

CINCINNATI (AP)—Ohio River traffic set an all-time record last year of 81,567,152 tons.

That's the report released by the U. S. Army Engineers which said this was an increase over 1956 of 5,200,000 tons on the 961-mile waterway.

Coal was the biggest commodity handled—about 44,600,000 tons of it—while chemical freight increased to 2,147,580 tons compared to 1,906,697 in 1956.

2 Teenagers Killed In Mercer Crash

CELINA (AP)—Two teenagers died and two others were injured Thursday when their car hit a bridge abutment on a southwest-ern Mercer County road.

Luke Muhlenkamp, 16, of Rt. 2, Celina, was killed instantly and Richard Beumer, 15, of Rt. 2, Fort Recovery, died later in a Lima hospital. Both were passengers.

The auto, sheriff's deputies reported, was driven by Herbert A. Homan 17, of Rt. 2, Celina. He and another passenger, Kenneth Allig, also 17 and of the same address, were treated here.

The Big Trucks and Ohio Highway Expense

Over a considerable period of time there has been much argument as to the alleged heavier damage to Ohio highways caused by the larger trucks that are constantly increasing number, traversing these thoroughfares.

On this point many truck drivers are very sensitive, particularly when they are accused of not bearing their share of the highway costs.

Most passenger car owners and members of state legislatures seem to agree that the huge trucks on roadways break up more miles of road than they pay for.

A majority of truck operators appear, from reports, to insist that this is not true; that they actually are faced with bearing more than their share of the costs of repairing or replacing the rapidly expanding interstate network of highways in the nation.

One Ohio newspaper, the Springfield Sun, in a recent issue, declared editorially that the truck interests are too insistent on this point as a result as shown in a study the truck interests requested made by a research team at Ohio State University.

The newspaper stated that according to that study's reports, "even counting the controversial axle-mile tax on the behemoths pounding state roadways, 'the revenue produced by taxes presently assessed against Ohio's multi-unit trucks is in line with the cost responsibility.' In other words, contrary to what the trucking industry would have had us believe three or four years ago, the axle-mile measure is entirely fair.

"This may not be the last word on the subject. In recent years there have been numerous statistical analyses 'proving' that one or another group of highway users (usually truckers) were getting a subsidized ride on the country's roads.

"In this particular analysis, which was sponsored by the trucking industry, the heaviest vehicles are shown to be responsible for between eight and 20 per cent of highway costs, while the many more passenger cars are held accountable for 50 to 70 per cent. Also — and this is what the truckers hoped to elicit from the study — the Ohio researchers find that the heavy tractor-trailer rigs are taxed 'within their responsibility range,' but automobiles, if excluded, return to state and federal treasuries barely enough, and often less than enough, revenue to pay for the highways they use.

"As mentioned, the big prime-movers of the American roads have had their share of criticism in recent years. The Ohio engineering report indicates that, in part, some of this criticism may have been overstated (the report naturally does not comment on the fact that the very size of trucks these days is rightly drawing critical attention from traffic authorities and the driving public).

"Since the war the unprecedented rise in the number of private motorists has, in the main, created the need for long-distance freeways. Truckers, even though they benefit tremendously from the increase in America's highway, resources, cannot be blamed for the fact that super-roads are expensive. However, if the engineering report is right, neither can Ohio truckers complain that they are being discriminated against in the matter of taxes. They are apparently just meeting their financial responsibilities."

Bill Holden - an Ambassador

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — One way a movie star measures success is by the time he has to spend with lawyers.

"Bill, you're really getting up in the world," a lawyer said to actor William Holden recently. "Your first contract ran to only 21 pages. Your latest one is over 100."

Another measure of stardom now is the distance an actor travels each year.

Holden, an Oscar winner and one of America's golden top 10 boxoffice draws, estimates he has traveled 600,000 miles in the last five years.

"I'll do 150,000 this year," he said during a pause here on his way to the West Coast. The day before he had been in Paris, the day before that in Rome.

Bill, whose latest picture was made in England, says the movie industry has changed basically since he became an overnight star in "Golden Boy." That was 42 pictures and 20 years ago.

Then a star could get by on acting talent and personality. Today, under many profit-sharing deals, he not only has to act in the picture—he has to go out and beat the bushes to sell it, both here and abroad.

With the possible exception of Bob Hope, Holden has no rival as a world ambassador without portfolio for Hollywood. Friendly as a wink, Bill gives foreigners the same impression as he does the folks at home—that here is that nice boy next door, grown a bit older, but still doing his best to make the neighborhood a chummy place for all.

Despite his wide roving, Holden has managed to maintain an air of privacy.

"The public doesn't concern itself with me except in my line of work," he said. "I don't think they are interested in me personally. A majority of people think me pretty dull."

He is anything but that. But he maintains an interior remoteness behind his casual manner.

"I concern myself with the personal problems everyone has to," he said. "But I'm not afraid of anything. I enjoy life."

What are the rules for survival in Hollywood? Holden grinned.

"If I really knew the answer to that, I'd set up an office and sell the information to other people—sparingly."

Holden says his goal is very simple.

"It's to retire. I'd like to make a contribution of some kind to this business, and then get out of it."

"I don't like acting. I never did. Acting with me has only been a means to an end—an end I don't even know."

"I've worked for 20 years, and I'm still about where I started. I'd quit in a moment if I could afford to."

A Look at Figures on Economy

By George Sokolsky

General Motors has issued an information handbook which is very enlightening about our economy. For instance, although it is generally assumed that the growth of sales has been steadily upward the figures show that since 1938, it has been zig-zag, back and forth, but beginning with 1949, there was a sudden spurt of buying, running like this:

1948 — $4,000,000,000
1949 — $5,000,000,000
1951 — $7,000,000,000
1952 — $7,000,000,000
1953 — $10,000,000,000
1954 — $9,000,000,000
1955 — $12,000,000,000
1957 — $1,000,000,000

Obviously 1955 was an exceptional year for automobile business, but that is not readily explained because it was the year of doubt economically, the year when the recession was beginning to make itself felt in certain industries.

The immediate problem that faces the automobile industry is how to continue to keep style as the major sales factor for a utility product. In a word to continue the enormous sale of American cars to the American population it is essential to establish standards by which a car becomes old-fashioned within a year; obsolescent within two years. But the American car is a well-constructed vehicle that lasts many years after a primary and secondary sale. The actual improvements in the operating machinery can be very few and they grow less significant to the motorist each year.

So it comes to a matter of styling and styling is taste — taste in shape, decorations, color, interiors, etc. When taste rather than necessity is the factor, purchases become postponable.

It used to be said, say 20 years ago, that it was impossible to saturate a market for consumption goods in a high standard, capitalist country. That was an argument against communism and other forms of socialism. Depressions, it was said, were caused not by excessive production but by under-consumption. The theory was that industry could continue to expand in every field as long as the consumer found money to buy goods.

But 1956 was a good year economically and despite all the talk about depressions, 1957 and 1958 are fairly good years although a not up to 1955. Why then the resistance to buying?

The answer lies not in figures but in the mysteries of the human mind. Nobody has advocated not buying. Nobody conducted a campaign against buying. Nobody suggested that this was the time to go slow. But there was an atmosphere and a climate and an attitude in 1957 that it was smart to delay the purchase of postponable commodities. That resistance grew to such dimensions that it produced what the government chooses to call a recession, particularly in the automobile.

Another factor has come into the picture and that is the import of mass cars from Europe. Prior to this period, imported cars were for swells, for the very rich. Slowly, the German Volks wagon and other European cars began to appear on our streets. So many have been imported that a need is being made manifest, namely the need for the small car. Of course, the Tin Lizzie, the old Ford, and all the cars in its class, were small cars but we seemed to move away from them in the direction of a very large car, which while it pleased the ego was and is sociologically wrong in a big city.

Therefore the small car becomes popular. It is most often without much taste in design in contrast to the stylized large cars. It is cheap to operate; does not require much room for parking or garaging. Already some American manufacturers are making small cars and before

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

AN ARMY DRAFTEE was observed by his lieutenant methodically depositing dimes in a PX soft drink machine. As each bottle was delivered, the recruit carefully lined it up on the table and put in another dime. When the lineup had reached a total of 14 bottles, the lieutenant figured the time had come to interfere.

"Don't you think that will hold you for the time being?" he inquired.

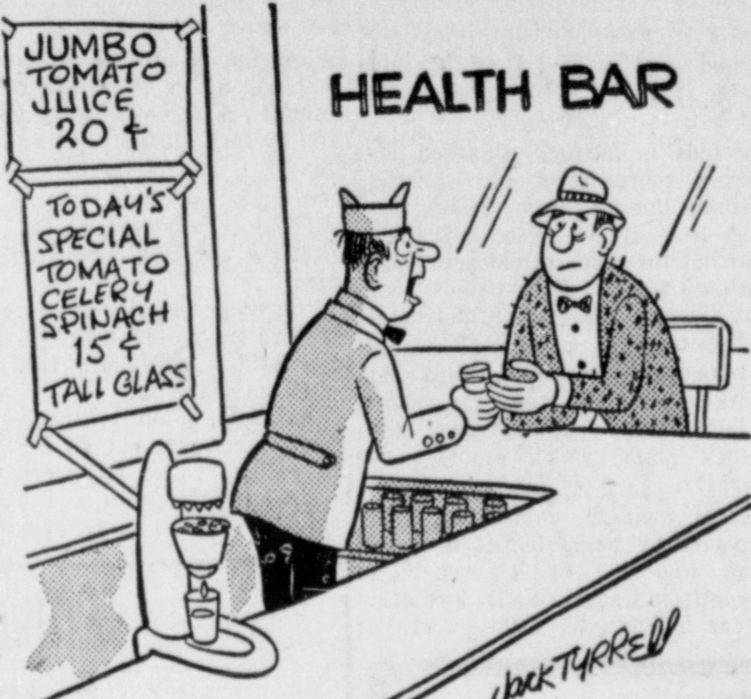

"What?" protested the draftee. "You want I should quit right in the middle of a winning streak?"

All day long Mr. Shaughnessy sat fishing from the end of the recreation pier; and all day long a stranger sat behind him, watching intently. Finally with sarcastic politeness, "Did it ever occur to you to do some fishing of your own?"

"Never," admitted the kibitzer cheerfully. "I haven't the patience for it."

Diet and Health Are You Informed On Health Subjects?

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

QUIZ shows seem to be extremely popular these days. So let's try a little health quiz.

I've compiled these questions and answers from a series circulated by the Cook County, Illinois Health Department some time ago. Some of the answers that the readers gave, I think, may surprise you.

Here are their answers:

Smallpox Vaccination

1. A person who has had a successful vaccination against smallpox is immune.

(a) For at least 12 months.

(b) For three years.

(c) For life.

2. Persons who have had polio should

(a) Not be vaccinated.

(b) Have one shot of Salk vaccine.

(c) Have three shots.

Open Food Cans

3. After a can of food has been opened, the contents

(a) Should be removed immediately.

(b) Can be safely refrigerated in the original can.

(c) Should be removed within an hour.

4. Some leafy vegetables should be eaten raw because

(a) Often spoils the flavor.

(b) Is too much bother.

(c) Destroys or decreases vitamin content.

Losing Weight

5. Probably the best way to lose weight is to

(a) Skip one or two meals a day.

(b) Reduce overall calorie intake daily.

(c) Take regular steam baths.

6. If you have a pimple, you should

(a) Squeeze it.

(b) Apply peroxide.

(c) Let it alone.

Now for the true answers:

1. (b) The length of time that a successful vaccination will protect against smallpox varies from three to 20 years.

In regions where smallpox occurs, it is advisable to be vaccinated every two or three years.

Polio Types

2. (c) There are three known types of polio virus and a person who has recovered from infection of one type is not necessarily immune to the others.

3. (b) After a can of food has been opened, the contents can be safely refrigerated in the original can, provided it is covered. Both the can and the food are sterilized in the processing. Another container might have bacteria in it.

Vitamins Decreased

4. (c) Of course cooking of leafy vegetables decreases their vitamin content somewhat.

5. (b) It's the total daily food intake that counts, not the number of meals eaten.

6. Let it alone. When the skin is broken, there is always danger of infection from disease germs. Application of peroxide will not prevent infection nor will it cause the pimple to dry up.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

T. D.: Is there such a thing as a false pregnancy?

Answer: Yes. Sometimes, due to psychological needs, a woman may simulate all the signs and symptoms of a pregnancy, even though she may not be pregnant. Such women may even convince their physicians that they are pregnant.

Author Says Girls of Today Can Be As Tough As Ancestors

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Don't be fooled by the delicate look and soft life of today's city girl, warns Mari Sandoz, historian of the Old West and author of "The Cattleman."

"If the need arose, they'd be just as tough as their pioneer ancestors, who jolted across the plains by covered wagon," says Miss Sandoz. "Remember that many of the women who helped their husbands open up the West, who cooked over campfires and fired their own guns, were city girls too. They came from New York, Baltimore and Boston, and they learned to survive the hardships and dangers of the overland trail and to fight side by side with their men."

"Don't tell me a modern woman couldn't take it. As a matter of fact she might do better than her great-grandmother, being by training more self-reliant, more athletic and certainly healthier."

"The female of the species always has had to be tough, and I don't think the pattern has changed today."

Miss Sandoz is proudly tough, though she admits apologetically that she hasn't herded cattle to market for the last few years—not, in fact, since jeeps replaced horses on the Old Jules ranch in Sheridan County, Neb., where she was born, eldest of the six children of Jules and Mary Elizabeth Sandoz.

"Our father (the Old Jules of her best-known novel) taught us all—boys and girls alike—to do everything that had to be done on a cattle ranch, how to survive in our environment and how to stay out of jail. So, although many thought he was too hard and fierce, I think he was a pretty good father," she said.

People . . . Places . . . and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

I have mentioned in this column before about finds made at old log cabin sites, and how it is possible to more or less definitely date some of the old houses in various ways through old coins, fragments of dishes, glassware, buttons and other articles.

For instance, on one log cabin site years ago, I found two big copper one cent pieces, one bearing date of 1818 and the other 1819. At another site I found one bearing date of 1829.

Also at each site I noted fragments of dishes and glass scattered about. Since that time, having become more or less familiar with many of the old-time patterns and makes of china and glassware, it is possible to establish the make and pattern from the designs used 100 to 150 years ago.

Recently in looking over the site of one of the early homes in the county, I found buttons from Civil War uniforms; white glass buttons made 75 to more than 100 years ago, jet buttons at least 100 years old, and fragments of 15 different patterns of china, with colors just as vivid as they were 75 to 140 years ago.

Also numerous fragments of several types of crockery and stoneware and fragments of glass bottles.

One piece of china bore the letters "—ine chi— and "eaki" which meant it was the stamp of Alfred Meakin fine china, made in England as much as 140 years ago.

A fragment of glass bottle bore the letters "—ain—cea" which meant it had been a bottle of "Pain Panacea" dating back 75 to 100 years.

Some of the patterns on the fragments of dishes were deep blue, red, green, yellow and various other shades. Of course, since the design was under the glaze, the years in the soil had not marred the colors or designs.

There was a preponderance of old ironstone China fragments, including some with designs in colors. While most of the fragments
I could identify as having been made in England, others definitely were of German make.

In those days little or no chinaware was made in America and what was produced was usually of inferior quality, so that just about all chinaware was imported and sold at remarkably low prices.

Many of the fragments were of semi-porcelain. In all instances if the pieces had been whole dishes, antique dealers and collectors would have wanted them without fail.

I also found a handmade harrow tooth which had been used in an old "A" spike harrow. It was nine inches long and 1 1/2 inches square near the large end. Two very short railroad spikes, such as used on the old Pennsylvania (Sheepskin) Railroad when it was first built through the county over 100 years ago, were among the finds made.

"EYE LIKE A HAWK"

It is really very complimentary to be told one has "an eye like a hawk."

Hawks, as well as eagles, have unusually keen eyes. They are able to see objects of small size at a remarkably long distance.

I know some of you older folks who grew up on a farm have watched the common sparrow hawk, which we called mouse hawk, perched in a tree top, suddenly dive toward the ground and come up with a squirming mouse which unwarily had left its burrow and was moving on top of the ground.

When I was a goodsized boy, I frequently saw sparrowhawks perched on nearby fodder or corn shocks watching for a mouse to run out of a shock of fodder being torn apart and loaded on a wagon or sled to be fed to livestock.

A mouse did not get far before it was suddenly lifted bodily into the air in the sharp clutches of the hawk. A few moments later it was being killed by blows from the sharp beak of the bird, before the mouse became a meal for the little hawk.

Mice did not always run when they saw the hawk approaching.
Instead would halt and remain perfectly still, with the result that they frequently escaped, as the hawk seemed to lose sight of his prey when it was not in motion.
Sparrow hawks have done much to hold the spread of field mice in check.

Miss Barbara Jean Dearth Weds
Mr. Eddie Halterman in Chillicothe

The Springbank Methodist Church in Chillicothe was the scene Sunday afternoon of the open church wedding of Miss Barbara Jean Dearth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Dearth Sr. of Chillicothe, and Mr. Eddie Halterman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Halterman of Jeffersonville.

The Rev. John Noble of Columbus performed the double-ring ceremony at half past two o'clock.

Preceding the ceremony a half hour program of traditional nuptial music was presented by Mr. Charles B. Lutz, of Washington C. H., pianist.

The altar was beautifully decorated with candelabra and pedestal vases of white carnations, gladioli and baby's breath against a background of palms.

Pew heads were marked with large white satin bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle. It was designed with a lace bodice, a scalloped Sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves that formed bridal points over the hands. The extremely bouffant tulle skirt was enhanced with wide scalloped edged lace panels. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was held by a white satin pill box hat edged with lace. She carried a white Bible topped with white feathered carnations centered with a white purple throated orchid.

Miss Martha Halterman, sister of the groom, was the bride's maid of honor. Her waltz length gown of pink embroidered taffeta was fashioned with a very full skirt. With this she wore a bowed headband covered with spring flowers and carried a colonial bouquet of roses.

The flower girl, little Miss Linda Sue Adams of Columbus, cousin of the bride, was attired in a gown of peach nylon with white lace trim. It featured a full skirt, a large butterfly bow and ribbons at the waist. She carried a soft natural straw basket trimmed with a pink taffeta bow and filled with pink and white rose petals.

Mr. Robert Dearth Jr. was Mr. Halterman's best man. Guests were seated by Mr. Donald Carr of Jeffersonville, cousin of the bride, and Mr. Howard Hennigan of South Solon.

Mrs. Dearth, mother of the bride chose a jacket sheath dress of beige linen with white accessories.

The groom's mother wore a beige dress which was highlighted with white trim and white accessories.

Both mothers wore lavender orchid corsages.

The bride's grandmothers, Mrs. John F. Dearth Sr. and Mrs. Marshall Seymour, wore corsages of pink carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents.

The bride's table was beautifully appointed and centered with a tiered wedding cake which was baked and decorated by the bride's aunt, Mrs. William M. Lutz of Columbus. Pink and white roses, fern and miniature white slippers were at the base of the cake.

Mrs. Kenneth E. Helton of Chillicothe, Mrs. William M. Lutz, Columbus, and Mrs. Charles B. Lutz, Washington C. H., all aunts of the bride, were hostesses. They were assisted by Mrs. Donald Carr, Jeffersonville, cousin of the bride. They all wore corsages of white carnations.

When the couple left on their wedding trip, the new Mrs. Halterman was wearing a sheath dress of blue lace over taffeta. With this she wore white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet was pinned to her shoulder.

Upon their return they will reside in Jeffersonville.

The former Miss Dearth was graduated from Kingston Union High School in 1958.

Mr. Halterman was graduated from Bloomingburg High School and is in business in Jeffersonville.

Guests attending the wedding and reception were from Chillicothe, Jeffersonville, South Solon, Washington C. H., Clarksburg, Columbus and Obetz.

Bridge Luncheon
Held Thursday

The Ladies Bridge Luncheon was held in the Country Club Thursday afternoon.

For the serving of the tempting luncheon, guests were seated at tables beautifully appointed using a patriotic theme.

Nine tables of bridge were enjoyed with high score being won by Mrs. Rose Hughey and second by Mrs. Robert Heath.

Special prizes were awarded to Mrs. J. J. Kelley and Miss Iris Gaut.

Mrs. John Forsythe and Mrs. Fred Enslin were guests.

Mrs. W. W. Trovillo of Frankfort, an out-of-town member, also attended.

The committee for the afternoon was composed of Mrs. L. M. Hayes and Mrs. Francis Haines.

Choir Honored
By Church Class
With Lovely Tea

Members of the Kings Daughters class of the First Christian Church entertained with a lovely tea Thursday night in honor of the choir members following rehearsal.

The choir is directed by Miss Christine Switzer.

Tea delicacies were served from a table beautifully appointed with a crystal water garden of summer flowers. Flanked on either side were lighted white tapers.

Mrs. Charles Sheridan presided over the crystal punch bowl.

Mrs. Carl Meriweather, class president, acted as hostess.

The choir rehearsal was in preparation for a dedication service of a cross that the Kings Daughters class is to present to the church Sunday.

Mrs. Naomi Helm is the class teacher.

Twenty-eight choir members and guests attended the gala affair.

Special guests were the Rev. and Mrs. Don McMillin and Mrs. McMillin's mother, Mrs. J. W. Riggie of Tampa, Fla.

Don't forget to slash the fat around those steaks and chops you are planning to barbecue to prevent curling.

Some cooks like to apply the glaze to a ham during the last half hour of baking, adding some of the mixture every 10 minutes.

Add half a dozen juniper berries to the pan when you are roasting lamb, then baste the lamb with the drippings the berries have flavored.

Many Ports To Seek Traffic Due When Seaway Is Ready

By ART PARKS
CLEVELAND (AP) — When the St. Lawrence Seaway is ready for full operation next year, just how much ocean-going shipping will cross the piers of Ohio's Lake Erie ports?

Canadian and New York ports will be doing their level best to "shortstop" the business before it passes through the Welland Canal into Lake Erie. Pennsylvania ports will try to lure the ships into harbor before they reach Ohio.

And ports in the upper Great Lakes will exercise all their allure to entice foreign ships on-ward and upward.

In short, although northern Ohio has a naturally fine geographical location, it is going to face a competitive brawl for every nickel's worth of overseas trade.

The picture is not gloomy, however. Indeed, Ohio ports like Cleveland, Lorain and Toledo may get more than a reasonable share of the total overseas trade until the bottleneck to the upper lakes is opened. That is the Detroit River. It doesn't have — and won't immediately — a 27-foot channel for ocean-going ships.

Crow Denied Hearing By Supreme Court, Judge Here Advised

Disbarred Attorney J. Harvey Crow of Urbana, once a frequent practitioner here, apparently has exhausted all the channels of appeal.

A letter from D. H. Jackman, London attorney who sat on Crow's original disbarment committee, informed Common Pleas Judge John P. Case that the U. S. Supreme Court had denied Crow a rehearing.

Crow appealed from a May 14, 1955, disbarment order handed down by a special three-judge court in Champaign County. Judge Case was a member of that court.

Previous appeals have been denied by the district Court of Appeals and the Ohio Supreme Court.

It was Jackman who, in testimony before the Ohio Supreme Court, said that Crow's case involved a total of 19 Ohio judges at various stages, and that this constituted "an all-time record in Ohio."

Advices Indians

FORT HALL, Idaho (AP) — Gov. Robert Smylie of Idaho has advised reservation Indians that it is their responsibility to see that Indian children get an education.

"As our country grows and technical advances are made, the need for an education will be greater and greater," Smylie told a meeting of Indians at this Southeastern Idaho reservation.

First, let's look at the total overseas trade via the St. Lawrence Seaway. Right now, with a 14-foot draft, 2,500-ton capacity on shipping in existing St. Lawrence canals, about 10 million tons of shipping is entering the Great Lakes each year.

Next year, with the Seaway open to ships of 25,000 tons—10 times as large—overseas shipping into the Great Lakes is expected to hit the 36½-million-ton mark; by 1965, probably 52 million tons.

Now let's look at what kinds of cargo the experts expect will make up next year's 36½ million tons, both exports and imports: Grain 12,100,000 tons, iron ore, 10½ million tons, petroleum 2,300,000 tons, coal 3,700,000 tons, wood pulp 700,000 tons, other ores 800,000 tons and general cargo 6,400,000 tons.

Conneaut, Ashtabula and Cleveland are Ohio's big iron ore ports. In the past, most of the ore has come down the lakes from the big Mesabi range near Duluth. But the Mesabi deposit is dwindling and the northeastern Ohio steel mills soon will be forced to rely more heavily on the great new iron mines of southern Labrador.

Since the amount of ore unloaded on the Lake Erie shore is governed by the needs of the mills, however, the advent of the Seaway will mean only that more ore is arriving from the east and less from the west.

Ohio ports probably will see a smartly stepped-up business in both coal and oil, both because of natural resources and geography.

Grain will not play too big a part in the Ohio picture, so it's that big 6½-million-ton general cargo estimate that will be the target of Ohio ports and business.

Seaway tolls announced last week set the fee at 42 cents a ton for bulk cargo—like grain, coal, ore and oil—but set the general cargo toll at 95 cents a ton. The rate announcement caused many northern Ohio shippers to gulp, but Curtis Lee Smith, president of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, reassured them:

"The rates are within the ranges proposed by the proponents of the Seaway (before its approval by Congress) in 1953, and should encourage both cargo and bulk shippers to use the Seaway rather than eastern ports."

A lot of decisions will be jelling in the minds of shippers the world around in the next 10 months, and money-saving will be at the root of most of them.

They will be figuring whether it will be cheaper to pay the Seaway tolls or unload and load again at east coast ports and ship by rail or truck from the coast to the Midwest.

If they decide to go all the way by water, they must choose the best port for their purposes.

That's why Ohio port cities — along with most of the others along the waterways of the world's ships will play through the lakes—have decided this is no time to be modest.

They speak of themselves all over the world in glowing terms. But, of course, if they're saying it about the south shore of Lake Erie between Conneaut and Toledo, they're saying it only because it's true!

DeMolay Here To Get Charter

Officer Installation Saturday Night, Too

Saturday will be a big day for the Order of DeMolay in Washington, D. C.—it is the day when the charter will be formally presented and the first officers under the charter installed.

The double-feature ceremony will start at 8 p. m. in the Masonic Temple with the presentation of the charter by District Governor Edward E. Craig Jr. of Cincinnati.

The order was founded in Washington, D. C. just about a year ago with 30 members. Today, a year later, the membership has grown to more than 50, one of the adult councilors said.

The officers will be installed by a degree team that will come from Cincinnati with the district governor.

Supreme Court OKs Haines; To Receive $4,500 Back Pay

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Robert A. Haines, state director of mental hygiene and correction, is back on the state payroll, and will receive all his salary, about $4,500, withheld since March 22.

This was ordered Thursday in a 4-3 decision by the Ohio Supreme Court, overruling a decision by Atty. Gen. William Saxbe.

Saxbe had ruled that Haines had been appointed illegally. Acting on Saxbe's advice, State Auditor James A. Rhodes took Haines off the state payroll March 22.

Gov. C. William O'Neill named Haines to his cabinet last Sept. 23 for a term ending Sept. 22, 1962.

Saxbe said that because the post was vacant during the regular 1957 session of the Legislature, O'Neill could not make the appointment after the General Assembly adjourned last summer.

The Supreme Court, however, said the vacancy actually occurred Oct. 15, 1956, when Dr. John D. Porterfield resigned, and when the Legislature was not in session. The decision said:

"If the present appointment was not legal, how could there ever be another occurrence of the vacancy either during a session of the General Assembly or during a time when it was not in session?"

The decision came shortly after the House, at a special session of the Legislature, voted to pay Haines his back salary.

The Senate, following the high court order, deleted the provision for Haines' salary from the relief appropriation bill and sent the bill back to the House for approval of the amendment.

Wednesday the Senate had confirmed the director's appointment.

Members of the adult advisory council are Jackson McDaniels, president; Virgil Lowe, dad advisor; Robert Seymour, ritual advisor; Robert Denton, membership advisor; John Craig; Walter Heath; Walter Elliott; Jerry Sparks and Howard Mann.

One of the advisors described the organization like this: "The Order of DeMolay is a fraternal organization which offers to each youth 14 to 21 years old (1) a wholesome occupation for his spare time; (2) worthwhile associates; (3) the best environment; and (4) an interesting and complete program of all-round youth development."

He explained, too, that the only connection of the Order of DeMolay with the Masonic Order is the requirement that candidates for DeMolay be sponsored by a Mason.

The Mother's Circle of DeMolay will serve refreshments following Saturday night's charter presentation and officer installation.

RECORD-HERALD
WASHINGTON C.H., Ohio

We will soon have a school survey of Fayette County.

Can any Citizen fail to realize that the need for a competent study BEFORE money is committed to an unchangeable building site is now greater than ever?

The annexation of New Holland and part of Pickaway County to Miami Trace brings new problems of High School student transportation and questions of where would be the most logical and efficient high school location.

The freeway which will be built across Fayette County and interfere with road use as we know it now, will also create transportation and school territorial problems which need study and solution BEFORE a pre-freeway program is attempted.

The growth of Washington C. H. and its need for additional space cannot long be contained by a school faction opposition which has fought almost every attempt to annex to the city, including that of individuals. It even attempted to prevent the city having a site for its New Bel Aire building.

The needs of Washington C. H. for additional residential and industrial area are recognized by the majority of Fayette County citizens.

Most citizens recognize the fact that at least two of the major industrial operations adjacent to Washington C. H. were kept here by money raised in Washington C. H. These plants logically belong to the city area.

Most citizens recognize that families have a legal right to some determination and selection of the school district they wish to be part of. This right, too, extends to those people who live around Washington C. H. and wish to be a part of the city district.

This acute problem of logical and necessary expansion of Washington C. H. involves school area and students. It, too, needs to be evaluated BEFORE a building program is fixed and unchangeable.

8 The Record-Herald Friday, June 27, 1958
Washington C. H. Ohio

Fayette County has much to gain from a competent study and sound recommendations submitted to the people. It has much to lose if the chaos, misinformation, policy reversals and valueless promises of the Miami Trace Board, the County Board, and county school superintendent, continue to prevent a sensible school situation for Fayette County.

The record shows that this board, within a year:

Reversed itself on the right size for a high school building;

Promised the people it would ask for a Citizens Committee survey and then had to lose a lawsuit before the committee was set up;

Passed resolutions and agreed to support the need for an outside competent survey agency—then opposed such a survey;

Told the House Educational Committee of the state Legislature that it had such a high tax base that it could, far into the foreseeable future, operate on 10 mills tax and two months later asked the voters for a 2-mill operating rate increase.

Solemnly worked jointly with the City Board to work out a territorial transfer in January, 1956, and then failed to support its own negotiation;

Tried to take over an established part of the city school and municipal area, with a low per pupil tax value, after spending years telling how they were dedicated to preserving a high tax duplicate for Miami Trace;

Promised the parents of high school students at a board meeting in 1956, that they would meet with the City Board to work out some solution to the acute high school problem, then refused to meet as promised;

The majority of Fayette County citizens do not believe this record creates any basis for reliance on this board of education's acts or statements. Rather, it further proves the need for intelligent and competent school planning, which we will soon have.

Girls' Staters Check Courts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Besides operating their mythical 18 cities, the 806 girls at Buckeye Girls' State today will be given further insight into the government of Ohio.

The high school-age girls at the government workshop at Capital University here will listen to five judges discuss Ohio courts, and hear talks by three women in state government.

The girls also will elect two representatives to attend Girls' Nation in Washington, D. C.

Thursday several bills were introduced by the young legislators. One calls for an annual inspection of motor vehicles except cars designed by manufacturers as being new.

The first city university in the United States was the University of Cincinnati. This was back in 1870.

Terrible Ted, Reds Not on All-Star Team

Players, Coaches, Managers Choose Starting Lineup

NEW YORK (AP)—Ted Williams failed to make the starting lineup for the July 8 All-Star Game today in the team selected for the first time by the major league players, coaches and managers.

The 39-year-old Boston Red Sox slugger who has played 13 previous All-Star Games undoubtedly will be named to the squad for the Baltimore contest when the managers announce the remainder of their 25-man teams Sunday.

"Well, I didn't expect to make it. I haven't been going too well," Williams said in Detroit, where the Red Sox play tonight.

Pittsburgh placed three starters on the National League side where only Stan Musial of St. Louis, Willie Mays of San Francisco and Hank Aaron of Milwaukee are repeaters from the 1957 lineup.

Only Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees and Nelson Fox of the Chicago White Sox were named from the 1957 starters in the American, which will be missing such familiar names as Yogi Berra, of New York, Harvey Kuenn and Al Kaline of Detroit and Williams.

The result of the voting was announced by Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick at a press conference after Frank Slocum of the commissioner's office had toured the majors, distributing and collecting the ballots. He reported 235 votes in the American and 231 in the National.

Musial, who will be playing his 15th All-Star Game, received 201 of the 231 votes.

Top man in the American League was Boston's Frank Malzone at third base, with 186 votes.

Williams, batting only .299, gave way to Bob Cerv, the thumping left fielder of the Kansas City Athletics who has been leading the league in runs batted in and home runs most of the time.

The closest fight was for second base in the American, where Fox nosed out Gil McDougald of the Yankees 108-104.

The old order really was upset in the American with Bill Skowron of the Yanks on first base despite batting average at Cleveland. Luis Aparicio of Chicago took over at shortstop with Kuenn, the usual tenant, shifting to center where he finished behind the Yanks' Mickey Mantle.

Jackie Jensen of Boston, who had been battling with Cerv for the home run title, ousted Detroit's Al Kaline from right field. Baltimore's Gus Triandos beat out both Sherm Lollar of Chicago and Berra for the catching job.

In the National League, Ernie Banks of Chicago won by a landslide at shortstop with 184 votes to 16 for Milwaukee's Johnny Logan. Frank Thomas of Pittsburgh beat out Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews for third base. Another Pirate, Bill Mazeroski, was picked for second.

Mays won center field with 195 votes.

Aaron also was an easy winner in right field. Bob Skinner of the Pirates was a surprising winner in left.

Milwaukee's Del Crandall was tabbed for catcher.

Here's Rookie Who Likes Umps

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Rookie Ray Semproch, Philadelphia Phillies leading pitcher, put in a log for National League umpires today.

"Big difference between the majors and the minors is the umpiring," said Semproch who is bidding for Rookie of the Year honors with an 8-5 record. "It's better in the majors."

"Umpires give you the corners in this league. With the ball so lively, I spot my pitches carefully. Up here I can be pretty sure a good pitch across a corner of the plate will be called a strike."

"In the minors, an umpire might give me one corner and not the other. I could never be sure. You can't keep pitching to the same corner."

John Donatucci, former Villanova College athlete, is the shortstop for the Durham Bulls in the Carolina League.

Who Ain't Dead? Dodgers, That's Who; Ask Milwaukee

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Well, look who ain't dead! Those Los Angeles Dodgers are breathing again, winning five of their last six in a drive to quit the cellar and extending their whammy over Milwaukee's National League champs to eight straight.

Right-hander Don Drysdale, the hoped-for ace who lost seven of his first eight decisions, has won two in a row for the first time this season.

He finally bagged his second complete game as the Dodgers beat the Braves 4-1 Thursday night.

The second-place St. Louis Cardinals kept rolling, beating Pittsburgh 6-2 for a four-game sweep against the Pirates and a six-game winning streak. That kept them .003 percentage points ahead of the San Francisco Giants, who won two in a row for the first time in a month with a 5-1 victory at Cincinnati.

The Giants scored a run in the first with the help of an error, then cracked a 1-1 tie with four in the eighth, capped by Orlando Cepeda's two-run homer.

Johnny Antonelli won his eighth. Harvey Haddix lost his fourth. The Cards, who have come from behind in five games during the streak, did it again. An error by Bob Skinner opened the way for three runs in the seventh as Keston tripled and Gene Green, Curt Flood and Hobie Landtrith followed with singles off loser Vern Law (7-5). Lindy McDaniel won his fourth.

Meanwhile, over in the American League Kansas City confronts the New York Yankees with a hot streak tonight, instead of the other way around.

The A's have won six straight for the first time since 1953, thanks to the slugging of Hector Lopez.

After hitting only four home runs in 65 games, Lopez walloped three Thursday night, driving in five runs and beating Washington 8-6 with a two-run shot in the 12th inning.

The Yankees, who open a three-game set at Kansas City tonight with a 7½-game lead over the second-place A's, defeated the Chicago White Sox 4-3 Thursday. Southpaw Jack Harshman blanked

The Yankees, held to one hit for five innings, handed Dick Donovan his eighth defeat with three runs in the sixth, cracking a 1-1 tie on a two-run single by first baseman Bill Skowron. Norm Sie-

Gals Troubled In Open; Mickey Wright Leader

DETROIT (AP)—The women golfers are having trouble in their National Open, too.

When the ladies started their U.S. Open Thursday, high winds swirled over the hilly acres at Forest Lake Country Club and the girls fought a losing battle against par.

Not one of the 54 competitors was able to equal the 37-36-73 par. The one-over-par 74 posted by tall Mickey Wright of Chula Vista, Calif., was good for a first round lead of one stroke.

Trailing Miss Wright going into today's second round were Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., Betty Jameson of San Antonio, and Jackie Pung of Hawaii. Each had 75s.

bern's fourth homer clinched it in the seventh for Johnny Kucks. Ted Williams broke up a 1-1 tie with his ninth home run in the ninth as relief ace Ike DeLock, making his first start since last August, outdueled Cal McLish (3-5) with a five-hitter.

Harshman, now 6-6, gave up three doubles but seldom was in trouble while gaining his second 1957 shutout, both over Detroit and Billy Hoelt. A walk, Dick Williams' single and a sacrifice fly from Gus Triandos gave Harshman the run he needed in the first inning. Bob Boyd homered for the other run.

Triple Spoils Corky Wilt's Perfect Game

Jimmy Richards, New Holland third baseman, came through with a triple in the bottom of the seventh inning at Rossmann field Thursday night that spoiled—at the last possible opportunity—a no-hitter for Pitcher Corky Wilt of the Seals.

But Richards got his comeuppance. He was caught stealing home and the Seals won, 7-0.

The only man to get on base with a hit for his team, Richards was one of only three who got a base at all. Wilt, showing classy control and an easy style, hit one batter and gave up one walk, but otherwise let no one advance beyond home plate.

Wilt had 11 strikeouts in the contest. His opponent, Bill Matson, gave up eight hits and three walks while striking out 10.

Knisley's Bunt Tops White Sox

Dick Knisley tricked a last-inning bunt past the Coffman White Sox infield at Armbrust Field Thursday night to give the Elks' Club nine a 6-5 victory in the only little league baseball game of the evening.

Knisley's bunt with the bases loaded, scored Eddie Campbell and broke a deadlock that had been running since the third frame.

The White Sox got off to an early lead with two runs in the first. The Elks made it 3-2 in the second, and both teams scored in the third to tie it up, 5-5.

Two innings went scoreless before the Elks scored their final tally in the sixth. Wayne Bass pitched for the Elks.

A major and a minor league game were scheduled for Wilson Field, but both were cancelled. Wilson Field was still too wet from the near-incessant rains of the previous weeks.

First Division Due For Shakeup In SWO Circuit

The Washington C. H. entry in the Southwestern Ohio League could plummet down to fourth place in the SWO circuit Sunday—or it could go barreling into first.

At least three of four games set in the league for Sunday could alter the standings in the amateur circuit. If things were properly twisted, all three could gang up together to turn first division standings upside down.

League-leading Chillicothe, sporting a 5-1 record, plays a tough but unlucky Milledgeville square today now sporting a 3-3 record in the middle of the league. The game will be played on the Jeffersonville field.

The Washington C. H. outfit, second with a 4-1 mark, has probably the toughest match of the week—a contest at Good Hope with fourth-place Greenfield. Greenfield, rained out more than any other team in the league, has a 2-1 record, having felt its only loss at the hands of the Chillicothe Businessmen's Club.

Bloomingsburg, third in the league battles the free-wheeling Blanchester Eagles again. The Monarchs took the Eagles a week ago, but they had a tough time of it for a few innings. The game will be played on Bloomingsburg's home field.

In the only other game on the docket, last-place Mt. Sterling plays a hot-and-cold Federal Reformatory outfit at Chillicothe.

Segura Sets Sights On Singles Crown

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Pancho Segura says he will make an all-out try for the singles title in Jack Kramer's $15,000 masters round robin pro tennis tournament, which starts here Saturday.

Segura said he will pass up a chance at some of the prize money in the doubles to save his strength for singles.

The popular Pancho has one big hurdle, however. That's another Pancho named Gonzales. Segura meets Gonzales first.

Joe Gordon Replaces Bragan As Cleveland Tribe Manager

CLEVELAND (AP)—Joe Gordon, former star second baseman for the New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians, flew here today to take over as manager of the Indians for tonight's game with Baltimore.

General Manager Frank Lane announced Thursday night he had fired Bobby Bragan and hired Gordon for the rest of this season and for 1959.

"We are making this change with the hope that there will be a general improvement in the club," he explained.

Gordon, 43, an insurance salesman in Sacramento, Calif., since he left baseball after piloting San Francisco to a Pacific Coast League pennant last year, said he was "excited and thrilled" to take the job.

Lane said the decision to fire Bragan was made in the last few days and resulted from a "succession of little things."

He refused to pinpoint any one thing that led to the change, but he has been openly critical of Bragan's platooning, his constant efforts to find a place for rookie outfielder Gary Geiger in the lineup and his handling of some pitchers.

Bragan was hired as manager by Hank Greenberg, Lane's predecessor, at the end of last season to succeed Kerby Farrell. He was informed of his dismissal shortly after the Indians lost 2-1 to the Boston Red Sox.

Bragan admitted the bad news hit him as a surprise, but he voiced no bitterness. In fact, he

Neiman Faces Surgery

BALTIMORE (AP)—Now they're talking about the possibility of surgery for the injured right hand of Bob Neiman, Baltimore Orioles outfielder out of the lineup since June 2.

Neiman flew here late Thursday from Detroit after a physical examination by the Tiger's team physician, Dr. Luther Leader. Dr. Leader told him he has a partial dislocation of the bone extending from the middle finger into the back of the hand.

Citizens Committee Resolution

Here is the complete text of the resolution approved Thursday night by the Fayette County Citizens Committee, recommending transfer of the G.D. Baker subdivision of the Belle Aire addition to the Washington C. H. school district:

WHEREAS, The City of Washington C. H., Fayette County, Ohio on Dec. 12, 1956, by an ordinance of Council requested the annexation of the G.D. Baker subdivision addition consisting of 167.249 acres known as the Belle Aire Subdivision located at the southeast corner of the former corporation line of Washington C. H., and

WHEREAS, The Fayette County Commissioners on Feb. 18, 1957, adopted a motion to annex the foregoing G.D. Baker subdivision to the City of Washington C. H. subject to a statutory waiting period of 60 days for acceptance, and

WHEREAS, Said annexation was accepted by the Washington C. H. City Council on May 22, 1957 by ordinance No. 753, and

WHEREAS, The Fayette County Commissioners on May 25, 1957 adopted a Resolution to confirm the acceptance by City Council on May 22, 1957, and

WHEREAS, The Washington C. H. Board of Education on May 29, 1957, requested the State Board of Education to transfer the territory for school purposes in accordance with the provisions of amended Section 3311.06 R. C., and

WHEREAS, The State Board of Education on Nov. 11, 1957, granted the transfer after a refusal at the July 8, 1957, State Board meeting by a vote of 12 to 5, and at the same time ignored the official offer by the Fayette County Board of Education to transfer said tract to the Washington City school district under section 3311.23 R.C. if and when the Washington C. H. City Board of Education provided concrete evidence of readiness to build an elementary school upon a portion of this tract, and

WHEREAS, On Nov. 30, 1957, the Fayette County Board of Education did upon request and voluntarily transfer 20.50 acres from the Miami Trace School District to the Washington C. H. School District as a site for the new Eastside school now under construction, and

WHEREAS, On investigation and research of annexation statutes and procedures it is believed that the G.D. Baker subdivision addition (167.249) was not properly annexed as purported, because—

1. Section 709.17 R. C. provides as follows—"A VOTE BY THE ELECTORS OF THE UNINCORPORATED AREA of the township shall be taken under the election laws of this state— etc."

THE FOLLOWING summary statements represent the findings of the investigation—

1. The section which applies to this annexation was amended and became effective on Sept. 10, 1947.

2. Prior to Sept. 10, 1947 it read—"A vote BY THE ELECTORS RESIDING IN THE CONTIGUOUS TERRITORY shall be taken—"

3. When a contiguous territory had no electors prior to the Sept. 10, 1947, amendment, there could be no voting and hence annexation by Commissioners only.

4. The Sept. 10, 1947 amendment, it appears, was made to safeguard subdivisions (townships) against wealth grabs. Many contiguous areas small in size have enormous tax valuations.

5. The G.D. Baker subdivision addition annexation question was not submitted to the electors of Union Township.

6. A majority vote would have authorized the commissioners to annex. Failure at the polls would have stayed the annexation and likewise prevented resubmission of the question for five years.

7. It appears that the territory in question therefore remains in Union Township and the Miami Trace School District.

8. If it were not annexed to the State Board of Education transfer to the City for school purposes therefore is invalid since the State Board can only transfer territory for school purposes after it is annexed.

9. It appears that the New Belle Aire School therefore remains in the Miami Trace Local School District.

10. The Fayette County Citizens Committee could make a redistricting proposal or recommendation to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction to transfer the G. D. Baker subdivision addition from Miami Trace to the Washington City school district for school purposes.

11. Approval of such a proposal by the State Superintendent would authorize the Fayette County Board of Education to direct the Fayette County Board of Elections to place the proposal on the ballot for the November general election.

12. The electors of the Miami Trace district would vote on the question. Passage at the polls would authorize the transfer for school purposes.

13. Apparently the County Board and the State Board could also under recent legislation place the same proposal before the same electors, however the procedure would probably be more complicated and involved.

14. The Miami Trace and County members of the Citizens' Committee are ready and willing to be helpful in an attempt to remedy this complication by permitting the electors to decide whether or not the G. D. Baker subdivision addition be transferred from Miami Trace to the Washington City school district for school purposes.

BE IT RESOLVED THEREFORE, by the Fayette County Citizens' Committee that a redistricting recommendation to transfer the G. D. Baker subdivision addition from the Miami Trace Local school district to the Washington C. H. City school district be made to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction in keeping with the provisions of Section 3311.30 - 3311.31 of the General Code of Ohio.

The committee also holds that if the territory were not properly annexed to the city for governmental purposes, subsequent transfer of the area to the Washington C. H. School District by the State Board of Education was invalid since the State Board can only transfer territory for school purposes after it is annexed.

The Washington C. H. board requested the State Board to make the transfer, although the Fayette County Board of Education, which at the time had arbitrary power to make territory transfers, had by resolution offered to give the Baker subdivision to the city for school purposes if and when the city board provided "concrete evidence of readiness to build an elementary school on a portion of the tract."

Under the law, the county board no longer has this type of transfer power, under which 20 acres of the city's Eastside school site was voluntarily transferred to the city in November of 1957.

IF THE STATE superintendent approves the Citizens Committee recommendation for transfer of the Baker addition to the city, he would authorize the Fayette County Board of Education to direct the county Board of Elections to place the proposal on the ballot, either in November or at a special election, and electors of the Miami Trace district would voice their approval or disapproval. A 55 per cent favorable vote would authorize the transfer for school purposes.

The Citizens Committee resolution also states that "apparently the county board and the state board could also under recent legislation place the same proposal before the same electors— however, the procedure would probably be more complicated and involved."

If the state superintendent disapproves the Citizens Committee recommendation it presumably is dead and the status of the Belle Aire school probably could be determined by court action either by or against the city board.

The state superintendent could also modify the recommendation, an action which would require concurrence by the Citizens Committee which is composed of six rural and three city representatives.

IN SUBMITTING the resolution, Bush pointed out that the annexation statute, prior to the amendment of 1947, provided that transfers of territory for governmental purposes (transfers for school purposes) are entirely separate proceedings could originate in Council and required only the approval of resident freeholders in the area to be annexed. There were (and still are) no resident freeholders in the undeveloped Baker tract, so no vote would have been necessary under the pre-1947 law.

Since 1947, annexations, other than by petition of freeholders (under which a current campaign for annexation of a large area to the city is proposed), must have the approval of other residents of the township affected by the transfer.

"What we are trying to do here is to make it possible for the city district to have the territory in which it is building its school," Bush explained to the 65 Miami Trace supporters who attended the meeting in the Common Pleas Courtroom.

He also pointed out that it is the committee's opinion that if the annexation to the city for governmental purposes is validated by a Union Township vote, the State Board of Education may still transfer the Baker tract for school purposes without approval of Miami Trace School District voters.

ASKED by a spectator if the city board has illegally spent public funds for the Belle Aire school, Bush observed that, not being an attorney, he could not answer that question, but he added that "it is not a common practice to build school buildings in other people's territory."

Committee members did not attempt to answer a question on whether tax money collected on the Baker tract and allocated to the city and the city school district would be subject to a suit for recovery.

James pointed out that Kent State University, which has been employed by the State Board to make a survey here requested by Sam Marting and others, had, in March of 1957, answered a Citizens Committee inquiry by pointing out that it would not want to enter into the local picture "since the districts involved are beyond the borders of our service area."

The city board has earmarked $2,500 for the survey, but both the rural boards have declined to spend money for that purpose.

DURING a general discussion period, opened to visitors, Criss Cross, a leader in New Holland's successful effort to become a part of the Miami Trace District, commended the rural boards and the rural members of the Citizens Committee for their "dedication to an objective" in the face of "frustrations" and said that New Holland residents are grateful to the Fayette rural school leaders for making possible an association which "will benefit our people." "We are united and we will remain united," he concluded as applause swept the room.

James, in adjourning the meeting, expressed his opinion that opponents of the Miami Trace school expansion program "have lost sight of the boys and girls."

"A critical rural school housing situation is getting worse," James observed as he voiced the hope that the Miami Trace District will not be further impeded in selling the building bonds which are now being advertised.

JANES SAID that early in its 18-month life, the Citizens Committee passed a resolution recommending a survey, but he observed that "the three city members of the body had a certain type of survey in mind—they seemed to want only a transfer of territory."

"If we have done nothing else than to help see that the wishes of the majority are carried out and that the spirit of democratic government still prevails in Fayette County, our time has not been wasted," James declared. "Whether we are right or whether we are wrong, the main thing is that the majority vote of the people shall prevail."

There was never any agreement during the committee's monthly deliberations, on what type of survey should be conducted or who should conduct it. On almost every occasion the six rural members and the three city members were in disagreement on procedure.

One redistricting recommendation — for transferring 840 acres of "growing room" to the city and transferring the developed Belle Aire addition to Miami Trace, was turned down by the state superintendent.

THE COMMITTEE, set up at the conclusion of a taxpayer suit demanding it be organized was constituted by law as an independent body finding and recommending a fact although the three Fayette County school boards selected its members.

Representing the two rural districts as the committee's life came to a close were Carl James, Charles Burke, Maynard Hoppes, Joe D. Campbell, Ancel Creamer and Kenneth Bush. Member appointed by the city board were Ray Branderburg, Ed Cunningham and Walter Rettig.
